

That Fire

Shannon McArthur

How does it feel to have them pockets full of gold? you lay your head down in a bed so cold one woman riding shotgun to the heart of your desire you ain't ever gonna feel that firebut I won't lose that fire
I won't lose that fire

I'm just a boy with a heart full of desire I ain't ever gonna lose that firedidn't ever think that you might need something more than the life you lead an empty smile from an early retire you ain't ever gonna feel that fireI won't lose that fire
I won't lose that fire

I'm just a boy with a heart full of desire
I ain't ever gonna lose that fireYeah I don't got no pockets full of gold but these days I have are gonna be lived not soldI won't lose that fire
I won't lose that fire

I'm just a boy with a heart full of desire
I ain't ever gonna lose that fireWritten by Shannon McArthur, Louis Yoelin, and Stefan Litrownik
