

Should Have Never Told Me

New Edition

You should have never told me
That you love me
Should have never told me
Told me, told me that you care
Ever since that day I saw your lovely face
You were on my mind
I knew that one day I would make you love me
It was just a matter of time
Every night and everyday, girl
I'm thinking of you
Girl, I can't believe you're mine
The way you kiss, you're right on time
Should have never told me
That you love me
You should have never told me
Told me, told me that you care
There's a chance I owned the whole wide world
I'd give it to you
All I'm trying to say love you through and through

Girl, let's stay together for life
'Cause you are my sugar and spice
Should have never told me
That you love me
You should have never told me
Told me, told me that you care
Now, baby, oh, baby
Should have never told me
That you love me
Should have never told me
Told me, told me that you care
Should have never told me
That you love me
Should have never told me
Told me, told me that you care
Should have never told me
That you love me
