The Writing On The Wall

The Mavericks

I know there's someone there beside you
I can tell
When my teardrops start to fall
There ain't no use in your denyin'
I can read
The writing on the wall
My heart has got that lonesome feelin'
And everyday I walk the floor
You're out there having fun
And I'm the lonely one
'Cause you don't care anymore
I know there's someone there beside you
I can tell
When my teardrops start to fall
There ain't no use in your denyin'
I can read

The writing on the wall
We used to spend each night together
But now I spend them all alone
These walls are closing in
My heartache never ends
'Cause you're not here, where you belong
I know there's someone there beside you
I can tell
When my teardrops start to fall
There ain't no use in your denyin'
I can read
The writing on the wall
I can read
The writing on the wall
