Elephants

Michael Baker

Just to feel the water
We could fill the well up with stones
Put skeletons in corners
Only when the summer sun is full glow

Yes I do know you and I could give you all what is left
But we fight like cat and dog & love like Elephants

I think it's best we just forget

Gotta keep the cold from your bones
Secrets that every body knows
You take a dose & you bloody the navel
For pipe dreams are made of things like this
But some dreams get buried in the season
You take the wild road & you heavy the burden

Just to feel the water
We could fill the well up with stones
Put skeletons in corners
Only when the summer sun is full glow

Yes I do know you and I could give you all what is left
But we fight like cat and dog & love like elephants

It's best we just forget

Yes I do know you and I could give you all what is left
But we fight like cat and dog & love like nothings left

I think it's best we just forget

Then come in she'll say & I'll help you to live a lot like me
