

Dark Rat Eyes

Nocturnal

Dark rat eyes, are staring from the sewers at me City lights, are darker than they've ever been Torture and pain, are the rulers of in this age
A stench of death, delivers the end of the world Rotting from the underground skulls and maggots form their throne A horde of black creatures crawling trash and dirt is what they need this is where their babies breed the host of total darkness Down below, is hiding a nation of gore Created to kill, but to bring a slow death Keeping alive, the germ of the disease
No escape, this is the century of the rats Black death over humankind lead by dark rat eyes An army of rats run over the world, watch the dark red skies
And then it is given from one by one, delivered from father to son No matter what someone told it takes us all, young and old A disease to clean the earth from a disease, which isn't worth to live on, on this fucking planet A gift to those who can see where the root of all evil breeds To control the influence of man
