

Runaway

Ali Fontaine

These prairie stars, they shine so bright
And here we are, on this August night and I,
I'm feeling just fine.

The smell of fires burning in the air
My tiny fingers running through your hair and why,
Such a beautiful night.

What would you do, if I told you I loved you
And what you say, would you wanna runaway?

Run away with me, run away with me
We're barely seventeen,
but how beautiful it would be,
You and me

We dance beneath these northern lights
Somewhere parked beside Highway 59 and I,
Could stay here all night
Walkin' barefoot along this beach,
The stars they seem so out of reach but I don't care,
As long as I got you.
What would you do if I told you I loved you
And what would you say,
Would you, wanna run away

Run away with me, run away with me
We're barely seventeen
But how beautiful it would be
You and me

Instrumental break

What would you do if I told you I loved you
And what would you say would you, wanna runaway

Run away with me, runaway with me
We're barely seventeen
But how beautiful it would be

Run away with me, runaway with me
Just you wait and see

How beautiful it would be
You and me

Just you wait and see, you and me

How beautiful it would be, you and me

You and me
You and me
