Humanity

Sinai Beach

Man has been fooled by his own brain
Mans been deceived, hes gone insane
Hes given away his soul
Exchanged the glory of the immortal
For the self-indulgent lies of the futileSo that fools might become wise
In their foolish wisdom
And the wise be made foolish
In the fools kingdomMan loves to think he knows all
His religion of science
I guess its easier to understand
When you make things upCant shove a square into a circle
Anymore than a monkey into a man
And the wise are made foolish
Man loves to think that he knows all
His religion of scienceI guess its easier to understand
When you make things up
In serving a useless nonexistent cause
To its useless nonexistent endMan became an infant
And crawled back to the womb
Hes gone insane, fooled by his own
