Spring (Air France Remix)

Saint Etienne

Dry your eyes boy, there's no need to be sad
Forget about yesterday and the bad times that you've had You've loved and lost and now you're feeling so blue
But can't you see? It's me who really loves youWith the love I've got, you'll forget about her
And find it easy to live without herIt's only springtime
Oh, you're too young
To say you're through with loveIt's only springtime
And I'll be different, boy
I promise you, swear to youOnce more you tell me I'm glad when we're friends
You say your heart's been broken again
How many times have you looked into my eyes?
Don't you realize we're two of a kind?With the love I've got, you'll forget about her
And find it easy to live without herIt's only springtime
Hey, you're too young to say
You're through with loveIt's only springtime
And I'll be different, I'll be different
I swear to youI've been watching all your love affairs
Three years now, don't you think I care?
How many times have you looked into my eyes?
Don't you realize we're two of a kind?It's only springtime
You're too young to say
You're through boyIt's only springtime
And I'll be different, I'll be different, boy
YeahIt's only springtime
You're too young to say
You're through with love
Through with loveIt's only springtime
I promise you, I swear to you
Ooh, I promise youIt's only springtime
It's only springtime
