

Lies of the Lonely (feat. Connie Britton)

Nashville Cast

Well this bed feels better with nobody in it
Well thank god I don't have nobody blowing up my phone
Well it's a Friday night and i'm gonna spend it how I want Cause I've always been a whole lot happier on my ownAll the lies of the lonely
All the empty words of the solitary mind
A thin disguise, you think they don't see
Can't hide the lonely in your eyesI don't wanna be no ball and chain
i don't wanna wear no heavy rings
I don't wanna be somebody's other
I got my friends, don't need no loverWell, I love being single
I love my friend
I love telling everybody that we're not together anymore
And all of those love songs
Well, they can keep 'em to themselves
'Cause I'm so much better off than I was beforeAll the lies of the lonely
All the empty words of the solitary mind
A thin disguise, you think they don't see
Can't hide the lonely in your eyesI don't wanna be no ball and chain
i don't wanna wear no heavy rings
I don't wanna be somebody's other
I got my my friends, don't need no loverAll the lies of the lonely
All the empty words of the solitary mind
A thin disguise, you think they don't see
Can't hide the lonely in your eyes
Can't hide the lonely in your eyesThe lies of the lonely
The lies of the lonely
Hey the lies of the lonely

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>