Emilie Autumn

In the courtyard
used to sing as loud as she could locked away here
she's been quiet, lovely and good but no one listens now she's lost her voice
she had no choiceif you sing loud and clear
someone passing by
will surely hear you
no you can't be afraid
if you ever want
somebody near you
if you sing loud and clear
someone passing by
will surely hear you
no you can't be afraidtore the curtain put her hand outside of the frame
let her hair down
sang all day
but nobody came
but when the sun went down the stars came out
she heard them shoutif you sing loud and clear
someone passing by
will surely hear you
no you can't be afraid
somebody near you
someone passing by
will surely hear you
no you can't be afraidbut when the sun went down
the stars came out
someone passing by
will surely hear you

someone passing by
will surely hear you
