

Lights Out for Darker Skies

British Sea Power

Oh, lights out, baby, for darker skies
There really is no reason that you need to ask why
When you fall like sparks from the muzzle, oh
Like moths that get confused by all the man-made moves
So go gently in this dark, dark night When something's wrong you know and it just ain't right
And you dance like sparks from the muzzle, oh
And you fall like sparks from the muzzle, hey Welcome for the day or stay forever
There's things which we all need to navigate
Daisy chains of lights around the city now
You glow but never quite illuminate Hell [Incomprehensible] water, won't stop us now
The future's twisted, righteousness is coming back around Oh, we fall like sparks from the muzzle, oh
Unless two thousand seven
Becomes a pitch black heaven
Oh, stop acting like you're my best friend When you don't know why
And you don't care how it ends
And you dance like sparks from the muzzle, oh
And you fall like sparks from the muzzle, hey Welcome for the day or stay forever
There's things which we all need to navigate
Daisy chains of lights around the city now
And they glow but never quite illuminate So dance like sparks from the muzzle
So dance like sparks from the muzzle, hey
Oh, oh And we were lit by kerosene
And we were lit by acetylene
And we walked under neon skies
You know it made me wonder why Why all the frequencies combine
And form a cleaner, brighter light
And we filled our fluorescent sails
It led to sodium-scarred wailing weeks Hey, now, now
Oh, the future's bright
Oh, hey, now, now
A history of light Repeat now, now
Because you know its right
Oh, hey, now, now
A history of light Repeat now, now
Oh, the futures bright
Oh, hey, now, now
A history of light Hey, now, now
Because you know its right
Oh, hey, now, now

A history of light You know it's right
You know it's right
You know it's right
You know it's right
You know it's
