

Starry Night

Laika

It is night and life moves at a new pace

    The air is still, the earth sleeps

        We move with the grace

Of the moon sweeping through the cloudsIt is night and life moves at a new pace

    The air is still, the earth sleeps

        We move with the grace

Of the moon sweeping through the cloudsOne by one the stars break through

    One by one the stars break through

        One by one the stars break through

One by one the stars break throughOne by one the stars break through

    One by one the stars break through

        One by one the stars
