

True Blood

Palisades

With an edge that cuts more than any knife
Here to pass any trend or a shelf life
Giving up is easy to do
But easy won't show we have something to prove

Your sticks, your stone, your words
Are all useless
My flesh and bone, my focus is ruthless
Wasting your breath, I'm ready to die for Something that puts it all on the line

I'm not gonna stay the same
The whole damn world is stuck in a phase
I'd rather fail standing out of the crowd
At least I did it myself

Afraid of your shadow when no one is there
Dare to be someone different, never blending in
You set us up just to watch us fall
The look on your face really says it all
Ohh
They can call it what they want
I'm gonna prove them wrong

Thrown out like trash
Deserted like outcasts
No trust, no hope, no faith
They want me in the ground

But I clawed my way out
Dug through the dirt
All you did was doubt
So whatchya gotta say, gotta say now
The cards were stacked
And I knocked them down

Afraid of your shadow when no one is there
Dare to be someone different, never blending in
You set us up just to watch us fall
The look on your face really says it all

Ohh
They can call it what they want
Iâ€™m gonna prove them wrong

You left me when I needed you most
Now Iâ€™m gonna shove it right down your throat
You left me when I needed you most
Now Iâ€™m gonna shove it right down your throat
Choke on this...

Afraid of your shadow when no one is there
Dare to be someone different, never blending in
You set us up just to watch us fall
The look on your face really says it all

Ohh
They can call it what they want
Iâ€™m gonna prove them wrong
can call it what they want
Iâ€™m gonna prove them wrong
can call it what they want
Iâ€™m gonna prove them wrong
