Eager Cannibals

A Static Lullaby

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

A savage thought becomes him
By the light shining through her dress
The flesh under his finger nails
The lips upon her chestAnd with the night pressing on
She weakens behind his eyes
She urns for him inside her
Collapsing by the bedsideYou want more, you got more
Cant be too safe, girl
Its alright, just undress
Her lips and his caressWere unveiling the curves of our bodies
We get along, along so well
A parasitic feeding off of
Of the blood of someone elseTwo bodies lie shackled
By the clenching of their fists
One body lying injected
Behind the others hipsWith the sun pressing on
She weakens behind his eyes
She urns for him inside her
Collapsing by the bedsideYoure on point, dont slow down
With a God's temptation
No sin love, its alright
Ill be gone by the end of the night soWere unveiling the curves of our bodies
We get along, along so well
A parasitic feeding off of
Of the blood of someone elseWere siphoning the sex from all these feelings
We get along, along so well
We're pulsating believing we were
Were meant for sharing someone elseWhy can't I feel you breathing
Behind my neck?Can I still feel you breathing
Behind my neck?Were unveiling the curves of our bodies
We get along, along so well
A parasitic feeding off of

Of the blood of someone elseWere siphoning the sex from all these feelings
We get along, along so well
We're pulsating believing we were
Were meant for sharing someone elseHe awakes, two souls embodied
Fell asleep between her legs
Medicate these part-time lovers
Is that love? They found love
