

Pink Lighted Suicide

Papercut Massacre

She's completely dead to the world no one ever really seems to know that her the pain is real the damage is done just another dead in the eyes love song you feel everything while i remain up you wave off everything while i remain stoned its just another day of cold shoulders

This girl doesnt know what she has in store oblivious to what shes got but has to have some more

She retreats into her room acquainted with the silence and the sound of doom the towns all stood still the battles all gone she left us with this dead in the eyes love song
you feel everything while i remain up
you wave off everything while i remain stoned
its just another day of cold shoulders

This girl doesnt know what she has in store
oblivious to what shes got but has to have some more

This girl had myself, the world on fire inside her reflect on this pink lighted suicide

Its just another day, another day of cold shoulders (its just another day)
its just another day, another day of cold shoulders (Its just another day)
its just another day, another day of cold shoulders

This girl doesnt know what she has in store
oblivious to what shes got but has to have some more

This girl had once said the world on fire inside perfect darkness
Pink lighted suicide
Pink lighted suicide
