T.K.O.

Reks

In his childhood memories a belt and bruises he thought he could forget the times he had abused him promises made to himself that he would never hit anybody else all that he wanted was love from he who brought them up but he just could not understand he brought his friends home just to make sure he was not alone 'cause dad was a violent man every night he goes to sleep but he's not lonely he's got a wife and kids and a promise that he can't keep past memories he can't forget the dad he had become was a dad that made his children sad all that they wanted was love from he who brought them up but
he just could not understand they brought their friends home just to make sure he was not alone 'cause
dad was a violent man
beaten up he beats his son when something turn out wrong he screams so hard he blows a lung
past memories he can't forget the promise he had made it just turned out to be a lie that's not what you deserve...

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/