Australia

PollyAnna

Leaning on the doorstep
And you are all I see
I'm lingering in silence
Since it took control of meI'm heading for the highway
With the speed of a free fall
I'm not looking behind me
Cause I, know I have it allI'm letting go, of control
Not sure where I belong
But I know it takes too longDo you think of me?
I wake up, I smell the sea
As far away as I can be
Do you think of me?
Did I leave a trace of light?
I'll come back I hope I might AustraliaEverything I long for
A ticket back to you
Your light on my horizon lately
Tells me what to do
I got stuck in concrete jungles
My body held hostage
But my mind still wanders to a
Place where I can't liveLeaning on the doorstep
And you are all I see
I'm lingering in silence
Since it took control of me
