Under The Moonlight

Travis

Can you see the moonbeam
And the colors of the lights?
They're like flowers blooming in motion
Watching them fade, the last fireworks of the night
(Tonight)
I begin to wake to relive this memory
When the answer is clear and beyond belief
There's a gift of love that awaits the final day
But tonight, tonight
Under the moonlight with the one you love
Under the big sky for the one you love
Riding under the moonlight with the one you love
Going places together tonight
In the far distance as the dream nears the end
And summer lovers pass the time
Holding on to what they can't keep
Into the horizon where the ocean meets the sky

So gather up your voice 'cause tonight's the night, tonight
Under the moonlight with the one you love
Under the big sky for the one you love
Riding under the moonlight with the one you love
Going places together tonight, tonight, tonight, tonight
Stars light up the coastline
And we'll feel this way
For today and for all time
Under the moonlight with the one you love
Under the big sky for the one you love
Riding under the moonlight with the one you love
Under the moonlight
Oh we're going places together tonight
Tonight, tonight, tonight
Tonight, under the moonlight
