

Everybody Is Afraid to Die

Petrified Tourist

I watch the oceans
They rise to me
And I can almost see your hair
And when you're laughing
You hide in me
It's like you almost seem to care
When the rain falls down at night
Everybody is afraid to die
And when I talk to you
It's overkill
And you can seem I'm kind of wrong
But still you talk to me
The way you will
You know I'm writing you a song
When the rain falls down at night
Everybody is afraid to die
And in a second you'll be over me
And in a second you'll be gone
The plane that carries you is in between
The different lives where we belong
When the rain falls down at night
Everybody is afraid to die
