

Shadows of Doubt

Attalus

Where is that faith that used to dance upon the raging sea
That fought a giant with just a stone and sent him to his knees
The kind of faith that thought a mountain was a mustard seed
That prayed for rain and didn't move until the clouds took heed

Why did I sink and try to swim? Why did I let the giant win
Why are the mountains closing in? If I'm still on the road why does it feel like I'm lost again

Oh God, hear my cry
Keep leading me even when faith doesn't turn to sight
Oh God, help me out
Keep leading me even through shadows of my doubt

Where is that grace that used to pick up beggars off the street
That wasn't scared to soil its hands to wash a sinner's feet
The kind of grace that took a hit and turned the other cheek
That loved with deeds not just with words cause talk alone is cheap

Why did I let the beggar die? Why did I hang my towel to dry
Why am I scared to black my eye? If I'm still on the road why do I feel like I passed it by

Oh God, take me back
Keep leading me even when my feet fall off track
Oh God, take me in
Here in your arms I know I'll find my way again

So as I walk this path to You - though shadows keep You from my view
In all my doubts I know it's true! You're still leading me
The way is dark, but all along - I'm moving closer to the dawn
And when my faith seems all but gone; I'm still on the road cause you keep holding on.

God is my shepherd " he draws me close to his side
He waters my soul in rivers I thought had all dried
Yea though I walk through valleys where my faith loses sight
I will not fear for you are here even in the night
My shadows of doubt are all drowned out
My shadows of doubt are all drowned out
My shadows of doubt are all drowned out by your light.

---

Lyrics submitted by Attalus.

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnlyrics.com/>