Train Hopping In Dixieland

Northstar

Watching your eyelashes close and twist
Shooting those sparks from her fingertips
I'm star-crossed and stark
I'm waiting for you to talk
And I radiate on the tip of your tongue
My eyes are easily bandaged from falling over best friendsSmiling in a photograph
Again and again
Caught these sparks
Now they're burning my handsI'm trying my best to show you everything
That I can skyrocket
You to where you need to be
I'll miss you in my sleepAnd hey green eyes I'm going blind
These summer trains always run on time
And I can't wait forever for you
And I can't wait forever for you
And I can't waitSo why am I losing?
Why did I lose you?
The best thing that's ever happened to me
My ticket is one way and yours is not for today
Telling all the secrets that lie on dusty shelves
And killed each other with our made up spellsI'm trying my best to show you everything
That I can skyrocket
You to where you need to be
I'll miss you in my sleepI'm so sorry I do this to you
And hey ladybug I'm sorryThese trains run on time
And I can't wait forever for you
