

Wake Me Up

Eyes Set To Kill

Paint the target where you like it
You've got everything you've ever wanted
Its not my fault that I dug a grave so deep
Lying at the bottom
And I'm looking up
Shes all I see
Shes all I see
I'm slipping further down a path I thought Id never lead
Ive got a vacant heart that's pulsing to a broken beat
Hes sinking deeper now
Where are her hands?
How could you do this dear?
How could you leave him here?
Lies seeping through his skin just itching to reveal truth
There's a bottle at his side
Burning as he takes a drink, he takes a drink
Swallows with his pride
Chasing down and breaking
Self destruction never felt so sweet
Wake me up, wake me up
There's an ending I'm afraid to see
Manipulations got its strings tied tightly around my wrists
A soft heart and a softer spine trapped me in her grip
She spun a web around me so tight I could barely breathe Finished me with three words, a lie she whispered through her teeth
A four letter lie, closet full of memories
No hate in his eyes till he finds hes drowning

There's no hate in his eyes till he drowns in lies as he takes a drink
There's a bottle at his side
Burning as he takes a drink, he takes a drink
Swallows with his pride
Chasing down and breaking
Self destruction never felt so sweet
Wake me up, wake me up
There's an ending I'm afraid to see
Your time is up
Enough of the lies and sympathy
Don't make a promise you're going to break

Its not over
I'm nowhere near defeat
Who is the victim now?
Ive got more spine than you think
Hes overcoming this without your hands
Now that his past has cleared
Now you can leave him here
Lies seeped through his skin to release him to see the truth
Theres a bottle at his side
Burning as he takes a drink, he takes a drink
Swallows with his pride
Chasing down and breaking
Self destruction never felt so sweet
Wake me up, wake me up
There's an ending I'm afraid to see
I'm afraid to see
