Drive You Home

The Verve

Your face so pale, hasn't see the light for days
But on the hill you had no place to say
"The skies are all mine and I'm proud to be here
But when my lover cries I feel his tearsI was gonna drive you home
I was going to tell you who I wantedWe came back to the same place
We didn't speak, just danced in our minds
Oh lover, I know this ain't what it should be
But let me take you home
I'll show you what you should seeI was gonna drive you home
I was gonna tell you who I wanted
I was gonna take you home
I was gonna tell you who I wanted[Incomprehensible]
I'll never change for anyone
I know it's there but I can't see it
I know it's there but I can't see it
A little light with you and me in it
I know it's there but I can't see itI know it's there but I can't see it
I know it's there but I can't see it
I know it's there but I can't see it
I know it's there but I can't see itI was thinking about the times I could have had
And whether they turn out good if they turn out bad
I was going to take you home
Show you things your lover wouldn't knowMy angel, my lover
My angel, my mind lover
My mind lover, my mind lover
My mind lover, she is my mind lover
