Pop Evil

Don't underestimate my faith
How many more times can we make mistakes?
So many lies inside
I bury my face in the ground just to watch them burn
Return always to the front lines
Divide tore up but in due time
Never more will we settle the score
What absolution has to answer for
The passing time we all betray
Stop running away, put it all on display
Love when your anger increases
You were born this way, everything has to fade
But your anger increases
No alibis or goodbyes
I've seen those eyes hypnotized
Always no doubt but to get more
Hardcore all day to the core
Once more I've been to the thin line
This time all in with an incline
One blood set in stone
Disown all alone try to dethrone
The passing time we all betray
Stop running away, put it all on display
Love when your anger increases
You were born this way, everything has to fade
But your anger increases
Stop running away, put it all on display
Love when your anger increases
You were born this way, everything has to fade
But your anger increases
