

AF607105

Charlotte Gainsbourg

Melancholy, aviation
Chocolate perfume, cigarettes
Frequent flier stow away
Dislocation, sleeping jetsWave goodbye, feel homesick
Tranquilizers bill of fare
Cry easy, DVT
Disappear into thin airWe wish you all a very happy pleasant flight
This is a journey to the center of the night
And the in-flight entertainment's out of sight
Here on AF607105Time difference, you're waking
Chase the sun into your eyes
Sleeping cities, dust hotel rooms
Passengers look to the skiesFly over your lifetime
And never touching down
My heart is breaking
Somewhere over SaskatchewanWe wish you all a very happy pleasant flight
This is a journey to the center of the night
And the in-flight entertainment's out of sight
Here on AF607105Your life in the wrong hands
Savannah and frozen wastes
The flight path, the wingspan
Below the earth rotatesI love you, I miss you
I cannot see your face
Invent a new persona
Drunk here on the edge of spaceAll the things I carry with me
And all the things I left behind
And all the things that wait to meet me
Hover in the air tonightIf I can only keep on moving
And never stop and think of me
And free fall through the years and decades
Terminal velocityWe hope you had a very happy pleasant flight
This is our final destination so goodnight
Like a stone we are now falling from the sky
Farewell from AF607105The cabin is burning
I smile and feel complete
Here amongst total strangers
27000 feetSuspended isolation
Kids throw toy planes in the street
One final blaze of glory
