Pomegranate Seeds

Julian Moon

Devil, he dragged me down
Devil, he dragged me down
With pomegranate seeds and a flower crown
Devil, dragged me down

Momma's been looking for me, yeah
Momma's been looking for me
Stone cold summer, dead of spring
Momma's been looking for me

He said, "Will you be mine?"
I said, "No, sir,"
I begged, "Let me go,"
And he said, "No, ma'am,"
I get what I want, one way or the other
I'll own your heart and soul, my lover
Six feet under

Devil bargained with me, yeah
Devil, won't you bargain with me?
'Cause I miss the sun and meadows green
Devil, won't you bargain with me?

'Cause the birds, they sing no more
The flowers, they grow no more
If you let me go, I'll come back once more
It's all I'm asking for

He said, "Will you be mine?
I said, "Yes, sir (Yes, sir!)
If you let me go,"
And he said, "Yes, ma'am," (Yes, ma'am!)
'Cause I get what I want, one way or the other
I'll own your heart and soul, my lover
Six feet under

Kore, Kore, fauna and flora
How did you get your throne? (Hey!)
You made a deal
You traded daffodils

For a kingdom of ash and bone

Kore, Kore, fauna and flora
How did you get your throne? (Hey!)
You made a deal
You traded daffodils
For a kingdom of ash and bone

I get what I want, one way or the other
I'll own your heart and soul, my lover
Six feet
Six feet
Six feet
Under
