

Ramble and Roll

Dropkick Murphys

Driving down the highway and I've got no lights dreaming about my future, I've got no expectations and I fully expect to lose but it's fading away in the night Chorus: what do you want out of life when you don't play by the rules 'Cause I was born to ramble I was made to roll living my stickin' life in yesterday's rock and roll I drink in dirty bars 'cause they serve bigger drinks and I don't own fancy cards but I do't hang out with stars and if I need money I'll just pawn a few guitars I take the train and man it stinks, yeah, I play music I may speak gibberish, but I don't talk shit and I'm not one for book smarts but I'm known for my barroom wit!
