

Man Down

Devvon Terrell

[Verse 1]:

Love you then hate you but they would never be the same without you

This is why you never talk to strangers

I been on my shit

I been pretty lit

You can take all the air out this room and I still burn you off the fumes

Burn nigga, what you earn nigga

These are my figures

Do you like them big cause you can't beat it

This is my thriller

Gorilla it get no realer

This what I say

I don't like having kids in my zoo

I'm like Harambe

Someday they gonna need me

When it comes to family I never play I in a show like I'm Kanye

Oh nooo baby

All you niggas irrelevant

Yall the type to help Donald Trump become president

Evidence, we are so different

Some got no presence

(Some) are so gifted

This is the mission

You get this free, no tuition

I am like the floor when its dry never slipping[Hook]:

I know we all on the same shit

You really you know it they can't put a

Up for a while that can change quick

I tell myself that they can't put a man down[Verse 2]:

When it get to talking just realize you gotta love it

This is when you know you doing something

Everybody gonna want a favor

Now that you got food everybody at the table

Love you and they hate you

All about that timing

Put me under pressure and I come off from the ground like diamonds

Shining, trying to blind ya

I've notice that when you finally get that money comes with way more problems

Problem, don't want a problem

You done name a row or my fucking column
Lonely at the top too many at the bottom
I feel like LeBron on the break who gonna stop him?
Man down on the way down
Here to teach a lesson nigga put your hand down
I think that I'm elevated
Don't it get you aggravated
Trying catch me off guard like Solange in the elevator[Hook]:
I know we all on the same shit
You really you know it they can't put a
Up for a while that can change quick
I tell myself that they can't put a man down

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnllyrics.com/>