Invisible

Hal Ketchum

Standing on the corner with my paper cup
Nickels, dimes and quarters never near enough
The busy people walk on by never look me in the eye
I become expandable, untouchable, invisibleSon I care, its says Ill work for anything
Was a time when I could make that hammers bring
I was young and I was strong always thought Id get alone
But I become, expendable, untouchable, invisibleI can understand why you dont wanna see a men hows fallen this far down and out
Might give you room for doubt, I can sympathizing if you looked into my eyes you might see youre self on the other side of hopeExpandable, untouchable, invisibleI can understand why you dont wane see a man hows fallen this far down and out
Might give you room for doubt, I can sympathizing if you looked into my eyes you might see youre self on the other side of hopeYou see me on the roadside, please dont look away, I got something precious to give too you today, so take a poor mens sympathy and the gift of never be a need
Expandable, untouchable, invisible
May you never be expandable untouchable invisible
