

Invisible

Hal Ketchum

Standing on the corner with my paper cup Nickels, dimes and quarters never near enough
The busy people walk on by never look me in the eye
I become expandable, untouchable, invisible Son I care, its says Ill work for anything Was a time when I could make that hammers bring I was young and I was strong always thought Id get alone
But I become, expendable, untouchable, invisible
I can understand why you dont wanna see a men hows fallen this far down and out Might give you room for doubt, I can sympathizing if you looked into my eyes you might see youre self on the other side of hope
Expandable, untouchable, invisible
I can understand why you dont wane see a man hows fallen
this far down and out
Might give you room for doubt, I can sympathizing if you looked into my eyes you might see youre self on the other side of hope
You see me on the roadside, please dont look away, I got something precious to give too you today, so take a poor mens sympathy and the gift of never be a need Expandable, untouchable, invisible
May you never be expandable untouchable invisible
