Know Your Enemy

Park

As useless as i am, i have little less to give.Take me out tonight don't forget your jacket bring it with the rest of you ill be the one on the left coughing up any any at best waiting for your signal a sound that's like your broken eyes keeps following me for hours on end i try to pretend this never happenedlike the blind feeling for lines both hands caught up in your hair again Like the blind feeling for lines both hands caught up in your hair agian and i fill out you picked me up broke in to right where i left off were just enough alike to make it worth your while that should keep you smiling ill be the boy in the bed hoping you'll just pass me up move on to the next one a night that's like your broken sigh keeps following me for days on end stretch and bend how did i let this happenlike the blind feeling for lines
both hands caught up in your hair agian like the blinde feeling for lines
