

Here We Go

Pat Green

Well, up and at 'em
Here we go I'm off again to the rodeo
And I've sure got a lotta little things on my mind One is a song I just started writing
Another is a girl I just finished fighting
She said, it was me but Lord I just don't believe her If you want to know where I'm a coming from Just sit right here and I'll tell you son
This life I lead ain't as wonderful as it appears Here I go again, singin' in this dive
Lone star beer in my cereal is keepin' me alive
I gave up on Nashville along time ago
Yeah, but here I go, Lord once again here I go I don't need to be too rich
I'm just an old hard headed sonuvabitch
With my eyes still set on the glory days Back in the times of the dukes of hazard
I was listening to Willie and old Merle Haggard
And smiling just a little as I poked along in my truck Now there's alot of poor folks in my situation
With years of heartache and frustration
Just kinda watching their dreams turn into years Here I go again, singin' in this dive
Lone star beer in my cereal is keepin' me alive
I gave up on Nashville along time ago
Yeah, but here I go, Lord once again here I go
Here we go, Lord Let me tell you folks it don't really matter
That beer you're drinkin' never made you fatter
It's all those nights on the couch with the [Incomprehensible] After twelve years with Copenhagen
I've finally found that I was mistaken
It's not going to be something to add some years to my life And that's why I'm still dipping today
And every morning I hear momma say
That shit is gonna kill you if the women don't get you first Here I go again, singin' in this dive
Lone star beer in my cereal is keepin' me alive
I gave up on Nashville along time ago
Yeah, but here I go, Lord once again here I go
I gave up on Nashville along time ago
Here I go, Lord once again here I go
