

Never Is Enough

Barenaked Ladies

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

What am I to wake up suddenly and then
Enroll at the local college, earn me a degree
And I could work weekends?
If I've worked real hard I could mow your back yardI can go to Europe travel with my friends
I can blow a thousand deutsche marks
To get drunk in a pub with some Australians
Buy a giant backpack, sew a flag on the backThink never is enough yeah never is enough
I never want to do that stuff
I think never is enough yeah never is enough
You never have to do that stuffI never had to spend a summer planting trees
I never worked my way through forest inch by inch
Doubled over on my hands and kneesNever spent a single day in retail
Telling people what they wanna hear
Telling people anything to make a sale
Eating in the food court with the old and the boredI think never is enough yeah never is enough
I never want to do that stuff
I think never is enough yeah never is enough
You never have to do that stuffThe world's your oyster shell
So what's that funny smell?
You eat the bivalve anyway
You're sick with salmonellaYou get your P H D
How happy you will be
When you get a job at Wendy's
And are honored with employee of the monthI think never is enough yeah never is enough
I never want to do that stuff
I think never is enough yeah never is enough
You never have to do that stuffI think never is enough yeah never is enough
Never want to do that stuff
I think never is enough yeah never is enough
You never have to do that stuffI think never is enough yeah never is enough
Never want to do that stuff
I think never is enough yeah never is enough

You never have to do that stuff
