

Listening To Freddie Mercury (Acoustic/Live)

Emery

Every once in a while I think I'm lying
And take it to the bank, I believe every word I say
Then again this is when you start your prying
But there's a thought it could be true But this just isn't how I imagined it would be
With these random people just asking the most personal things
And to think that somehow I could always come clean
And you shake your head just like you know what I mean You're a Christian, tell the sinner to find repentance
It's your last chance
You believer, where's your patience? Answer questions put on faces To see if it's right or wrong to listen to this song
I don't want you too
And see if you're okay with all the words I say
It can't be this way Somehow, someone's more equal than others
Depending on the words we choose to say
A glance at her too long tonight
But everything I am saying's right in your ears
We are all the sisters and the brothers
Until we find we don't believe the same Like Gary's getting drunk to forget Sarah
Sarah's stealing money from her parents
Aaron's lying straight to Jon about Megan
And the things that went on Jessica's a gossip, Laura is a slut
Derrick hits Bridget, Ben deals drugs
Seth spends all his money gambling
Joey stopped praying, it's all the same thing We are all the same people
With sinning hearts that make us equal
Here's my hand, not words said desperately
It's not our job to make anyone believe

Songwriters

Anthony David; Bryan Devin Shelton; Matthew Carter; Toby James Morrell; Joel Mosteller Green; Joshua Dathan

HeadPublished by

THIRSTY MOON RIVER PUBLISHING INC. Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>