

Someone To Tell It To

Nat King Cole

What good is a dream a plan or a scheme
The rainbow that you pursue?
It's everything and it's nothing
Without someone to tell it to
How eager you are to get to that star
But after the journey's through
You're only a lonely dreamer
Without someone to tell it to
There'll be blue days hard to get through days
Days when you'll just want to die
Soon you're older and the world's colder

When there's no shoulder to cry on Castles in air are empty and bare
With no one to share the view
The moonlight is merely moonlight
There's no magic in, 'I love you'
Without someone someone to tell it to
The moonlight is merely moonlight
There's no magic in 'I love you'
Without someone someone to tell it to

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>