

Build Me A Girl

Andy Grammer

I was nearly a soul getting ready to go
Having one last talk with my maker
He said you're going to earth for better or worse
We'll see you back here sooner or laterSo I said to him, as I spread my wings
Would you do one thing for meWould you build me a girl from all over the world
I promise I will always adore you
Made in Japan, with style of Milan and a smile from California
Brazilian walk, hair from New York, pretty Parisian curls
Build me a girl
Build me a girlWell the days went by Wondering why, why it was I hadn't found her
I was staring at eyes
Smiling at smiles
Still I was none the wiserAnd you know I don't Don't mean to impose
But I thought we had a dealYou would you build me a girl from all over the world
I promise I will always adore you
Made in Japan, with style of Milan and a smile from California
Brazilian walk, hair from New York, pretty Parisian curls
Build me a girl
Build me a girlSo calling all woman who fit this description
If I'm what you're missing
Then please just listen to the wind
The clouds they're all screaming out,
They're trying to bring you to me
So please don't shut them out
Because there is a lady who is made for me
Yes, there is a lady who's been made for meCause I said build me a girl from all over the world
I promise I will always adore you
Made in Japan, with style of Milan and a smile from California
Brazilian walk, hair from New York and pretty Parisian curls
Build me a girlBuild me a girl from all over the world
I promise I will always adore you
Made in Japan, with style of Milan and a smile from California
Brazilian walk, hair from New York and pretty Parisian curls
Build me a girl

Songwriters

JAMIE ALEXANDER HARTMAN, ANDY GRAMMER, PHIL BENTLEYPublished by

Lyrics © RESERVOIR MEDIA MANAGEMENT INC Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941.
Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by
<https://damlyrics.com/>