

Take It Back

Barenaked Ladies

It's hard enough to notice
Harder still to react
Just a stone's throw
From the center of our attention
We all fade to black Save me from a villainous imagination
Deliver me from my friends
If I said something to make you mad
I will take it back It's hard enough to stomach
But try to look away
Is this a news report
Or a trailer for a motion picture?
It all fades to gray Save me from a villainous imagination
Deliver me from my friends
If I said something to make you mad
I will take it back Long lines and warning signs
Think of all the lives
Saved by plastic knives
It's naive but make believe
We will never lose
If we remove our shoes It's hard to keep your mouth shut
Harder still to make noise
But we can't have
The perfect 20/20 hindsight
That our fate enjoys So save me from a villainous imagination
Deliver me from my friends
And if I said something to make you mad
I will take it back
I will take it back
