

Greatest Love Story

Dana Catherine

It started with a girl
Who brought him to the world
And in a manger lay
The one who came to save
It couldn't be ignored
The words that he would say
He was the lamb of God
That man was sure to slay
Oh what a perfect sound
To hear the voice of love aloud

It's the greatest love story ever told
It's the sweetest song to the weakest souls
Even when we're struggling in the night
The sun will rise

He spoke with gentleness
And with such tenderness
And knocked on sinners doors
To teach them righteousness
It couldn't be ignored
The price he came to pay
And when his work was done
We'd never be the same
Oh what a perfect sight
To see the darkness turn to light

It's the greatest love story ever told
It's the sweetest song to the weakest souls
Even when we're struggling in the night
The sun will rise

Yeah even when the thunder is crying out
And even when the stars tumble to the ground
Yeah even when we're too scared to trust ourselves
We can trust in God, We can trust in love

It started with a girl
Who brought him to the world

And in a manger lay

It's the greatest love story ever told
It's the sweetest song to the weakest souls
Even when we're struggling in the night
The sun will rise, the sun will rise
Yeah it's the greatest love story ever told
And it's the sweetest song to the weakest souls
Yeah even when we're struggling in the night
The sun will rise
The sun will rise

Lyrics Submitted by Jadaja and Friends

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnlyrics.com/>