

The Blue Light of the Underwater Sun

Moby

Now close your eyes and relax
Feel the warmth of the sun
And imagine yourself as a beautiful dolphinSwimming and playing in the vast ocean
You sail up and over the waves
And listening in the warm sun
And snapping your strong tailNow you're going deep
Swimming and exploring the wonders of the mighty sea
Shoals of brightly colored fish and banks of coral
All illuminated of the blue light of the underwater sunThere in a distance
You see a vast shoal of fast tuna
And you start to chase them
Suddenly you're caught in a driftnet
Made by commercial fishermen
And you start to panic
