What About Tomorrow

Near Miss

Is it my time already?
Am I going to sleep only to never wake up?
Are my dreams never coming true? What about tomorrow
And all of what I expected is it just going to fade away?What if the world stopped turning?
Would you still care about what those around you say?
I'm tired of sleeping in my head
I'm searching for sympathyI can't let it go without putting up a fight
But it's hard to get by when there's nothing in sight
Nothing to look forward to
But what about the things you said?Here today alone again, only the sound
Of the iron bell can still call me to my knees
For this is the day that I die
Do you know why you stand?What if the world stopped turning?
Would you still care about what the broken hearted said?
I'm tired of sleeping in my head
I wish it had been a better songI can't let go without putting up a fight
But it's hard to get by when there's nothing in sight
Nothing to look forward to
But what about the things we did?I can't let go without putting up a fight
But it's hard to get by when there's nothing in sight
Nothing to look forward to
But what about me and you?I can't let go without putting up a fight
But it's hard to get by when there's nothing in sight
Nothing to look forward to
But what about?
