Little Too Late

Default

Maybe I missed you
Maybe it's true
Maybe I didn't do enough to hold onto you
Maybe you'll think back
On the good times we had
Maybe one day this feeling won't remind me of you
It took some time now, I know
It's a little too late
I'm in this world all alone
And now I see it's over
Out of time
I wish I never said goodbye
All the times I never tried
I couldn't find your love when I lost my way
But as time went on and on
I didn't know we were meant to be
Now I'm dying cuz I couldn't see
I threw it away
Now it's a little too late
It should have been easy
It seemed so hard
I could never see that we were better apart
I should have been the one to hold you
I should have been the one you run to
Turned around just in time to see you fade
A memory of you
It took some time now, I know
It's a little too late

I'm in this world all alone
And now I see it's over
Out of time
I wish I never said goodbye
All the times I never tried
I couldn't find your love when I lost my way
But as time went on and on
I didn't know we were meant to be
Now I'm dying cuz I couldn't see
I threw it away

Now it's a little too late
I remember when I said goodbye
I can`t forget the tears that you cried
I pretend that I was over you
I let you go and I don't know why
It took some time now, I know
I wish I never said goodbye
All the times I never tried
I couldn't find your love when I lost my way
But as time went on and on
I didn't know we were meant to be
Now I'm dying cuz I couldn't see
I threw it away
Now it's a little too late
Too late too late tool late
It's a little too late (too late, too late, too late)
It's a little too late (too late, too late, too late)
Now it's a little too late
