

To Be Together

Amy Grant

It's chaos in the car seats, heading south on 65
They're asking "Are we there yet?"
Every minute of the drive To be together at Christmastime The last flight out was canceled
'Cause of unexpected snow
She's sleeping in the terminal
With the whole world headed home To be together at Christmastime Oh, when you open up that door
To old familiar rooms of love and laughter
Coming home just the way you are Knowing this is all that really matters To be together at Christmastime I'm singing out this song 'til every lonely soul has heard
We're not alone 'cause love has put his arms around the world To be together at Christmastime So every time that lonely feeling comes around again
Listen, love is knocking
Yeah, wanting to come in To be together, to be together Oh, when you open up that door
To old familiar rooms of love and laughter
Coming home just the way you are
Knowing this is all that really matters To be together at Christmastime (Love that feeling) Oh, love that feeling
Yes, I love that feeling
What a lovely feeling Oh, when you open up that door
To old familiar rooms of love and laughter
Coming home just the way you are
Knowing this is all that really matters To be together at Christmastime
To be together at Christmastime
Oh, to be together
