

Traitor

Cavo

Just give me a sign I would believe
You're all of the sirens calling to me
Life is a traitor, a traitor.
Hope is alive but no one believes
Silence is golden but when you leave
I need a savior, a savior You were so gold
I could have given you all
But you got the shivers
I was so bold; seemed so right
Now who's the quitter?
Now you're the quitter
Just show me the lies I would believe
Safe for the moment
But when you breathe
Life is a traitor, a traitor
This world is a lie and no one believes
Everything's changing inside of me
I need a savior, a savior You were so gold
I could have given you all
But you got the shivers
I was so bold; seemed so right
Now who's the quitter?
Now you're the quitter You were so gold
I could have given you all
But you got the shivers
I was so bold; seemed so right
Now who's the quitter?
You were so gold
I could have given you all
But you got the shivers
I was so bold; seemed so right
Now who's the quitter?
Now you're the quitter Just give me a sign I would believe
Everything's changing inside of me
My mind is a traitor, a traitor
My mind as a traitor, a traitor
The mind is a traitor, a traitor
