Different Seasons

Johnny Hates Jazz

There is a face deep in your mind
One that your heart won't leave behind
Memories are cold, empty of laughs
And all that remain are photographsWhen she's gone there are no reasons
Nature's cruel, it's just different seasons
Goin' on and on and on and on and on and on and onThere is a voice deep in your soul
Telling you not to lose control
Day after day you hold back the tears
'Cause pain is the greatest of your fearsWhen she's gone there are no reasons
Nature's cruel, it's just different seasons
Goin' on and on and on and on and on and on and onWhen she's gone, oh there are no reasons
Nature's cruel, oh but it's just different seasons
Goin' on and on and on and on and on and on and onThere are no reasons, say it's only
Different seasons, yeah, yeahThere is a face deep in your mind
One that your heart won't leave behindSay it's only different seasons, yeah
Just different seasons, there are no reasons
Goin' on and on, oh no, no, no

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/