Long Day Comin'

Hal Ketchum

Close your eyes, you've got a long day comin'
Your mama will be callin', that old rooster will crow
Close your eyes, you've got a long day comin'
You should have been sleepin' a long time agoThere are certain things in life
That do not go the way we plan them
There are mysteries to 'Love'
You're too young to understand themThese are not tears, just smoke in my eyes
Smoke from the bridges I'm burning tonightClose your eyes, you've got a long day comin'
Your mama will be callin', that old rooster will crow
Close your eyes, you've got a long day comin'
You should have been sleepin' a long time agoGuess it's time to say goodnight
I've sung you every song I know
Let me stand and watch you dream
One more time before I goTomorrow you'll wake and you'll wonder why
There's so many miles between you and IClose your eyes, you've got a long day comin'
Your mama will be callin', that old rooster will crow
Close your eyes, you've got a long day comin'
You should have been sleepin' a long time agoClose your eyes, you've got a long day comin'
You should have been sleepin' a long time ago

Lyrics provided by
https://damnlyrics.com/