

Mind Full of Daggers

Juliette and the Licks

I get the feeling, I'm down on my knees waiting to serve you
I can't take much more of this policeman state
And when I'm up, you try to put me down back in the cage babe
You're never too soon but you're always too late, oh yeah Everything you are is everything you want
Everything you want is everything you need Oh, hey Joe, I'm so sorry for you now 'cause you'll never live me down
I'm the girl in the Licks Juliette, Juliette, say my name, bitch
You got that gentleman's swagger and mind full of daggers, leave me alone
That 13 inch boot don't make you a man, know how? Everything you are is everything you want
Everything you want is everything you need
And everything you need is everything you try to take from me
Everything don't mean a thing, no I don't care what you say
You can go your own way, baby
I don't care what you say
You can go your own way So you found another weak one to put under your thumb
You found another weak one to bang like a drum
Every time I'm up, you try to put me down back in the cage, baby
And when I'm up, you try to put me down, down, down Everything you are is everything you want
Everything you want is everything you need
And everything you need is everything you try to take from me
Everything don't mean a thing, no I'm sick and tired of all your duplicity
And everything you change in me, change in me
Everything, everything
Everything you want, you want

Songwriters

Lewis, Juliette / Morse, Todd / Womack, Jason / Walters, Kemble Published by

Lyrics © Sony/ATV Music Publishing LLC Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>