Heartbeats

Backstage Cast

I'm helpless, overpowered.
I swear you've hit me at a hundred miles per hour.
I stoke the fire and tend the flame.
We crash and burn and do it all again.
You're reckless, no mercy.
I can't resist it even though I know it hurts me.
So roll the dice and play the game,
Lost in love with no one else to blame.
Falling down, falling for you now.
So catch me love, before I hit the ground.
I know we've crossed the line, but your heart beats just like mine.
And every star will fall in line, when your heart beats just like mine
And all our stars align.
This battle, is senseless.
I'm paralyzed inside, you leave me so defenseless.
I still reach out and call your name, lost in love with no one else to blame.
I'm falling down, I'm falling for you now.
So catch me love, before I hit the ground.
I know we've crossed the line, but your heart beats just like mine.
And every star will fall in line, when your heart beats just like mine
And all our stars align.
And when you come crawling back, you know I'll be good with that.
I'm trying to play it cool.
And you say sorry now, I believed it then
Until you're leaving again.
Falling down- down, so catch me love before I hit the ground.
I know we've crossed the line, but your heart beats just like mine.
And every star will fall in line, when your heart beats just like mine.
I know we've crossed the line, but your heart beats just like mine.
And every star will fall in line, when your heart beats just like mine
And all our stars align.
