

Lie in the Sound

Trespassers William

I love you more than I should
So much more than is good for me
More than is good Oh the timing is cruel
Oh I need and don't want to need
More than I should I am falling, say my name
And I'll lie in the sound
What is love, but whatever
My heart needs around Oh my sheet is so thin
So I say I can't sleep because It's so very cold Oh but I know what I need
And if you were just near to me
Would you go I am falling, say my name
And I'll lie in the sound
What is love, but whatever
My heart needs around I am falling, say my name
And I'll lie in the sound
What is love, but whatever
My heart needs around And it needs you too much now
