

If Women Ruled the World

Joan Armatrading

Loving your sweet ways
Loving the funny things you say
Loving the silence
Wrapped in my man's arms
At the end of the dayLoving the way you
Make me feel that women rule the world
If women ruled the world
It would be a good thingNo more war, no more hate
Women can't fight but talking's great
Behind your back, to your face
They'd rather talk than murderNot all men kill babies
But a woman would rather kill herself
Than see a child suffer
Women are carers, they were born that wayLike mother nature feeds the world
A woman will think of her child first
No more sons dying young
Women bore sons for livingNo more war, no more hate
Women can fight but talking's great
Behind your back, to your face
They'd rather talk than murderI love how you love me
Make me feel that women rule the world
If women ruled the world
It would be a good thingIf women ruled the world
If women ruled the world
If women ruled the world
It would be a good thingLike mother nature feeds the world
A woman will think of her child first
No more sons dying young
Women bore sons for livingNo more war, no more hate
Women can't fight but talking's great
Behind your back, to your face
They'd rather talk than murderIf women ruled the world
If women ruled the world
It would be a good thing
