No Miracle, No Dazzle

Blue Rodeo

What's so obvious nowWas just as obvious thenWhat the whole world already knewI was the last to admitI guess I'm a foolBut I just can't stand the painAnd I'd rather hide in this empty hope
Then to go through all that shit again(chorus)You say we don't live together
We just share the same houseFunny how you took the wordsRight out of my mouth
No miracle no dazzleMy tongue is tiedAnd at this point there ain't much differenceBetween the leavingAnd the left behindI still rememberWhen you tried to be discreetI thought I was going crazy
But it was just you lying through your teethNow you don't even botherYeah there's no need to pretend
You don't make up those stupid answers anymoreWhen I ask you where you've been(chorus)
